Incredible, I've lived in some pretty awesome cities the provide opportunities to camp indigenously. As a pampered city slicker I had no idea what I'd get into when I started getting into camping, this book helped me get a good handle on the right types of equipment needed to not die, how to prep and build shelter and fire (I had a tent,I'm good), and how to generally just get around and stay safe out there and know the right things to find food and water. One more awesome book to increase your man skills.

I really like the collection, it's witty, resourceful and pretty nifty and I am definitely going to upload it onto my ebook reader and take it with me on trips with the scouts :)

I'm planning my first big camping/hiking trip in two weeks and this book has great tips on what to pack. And I hope to impress my friends with some of the survival hacks mentioned lol. Definitely recommended!

Currently obsessing over this book. All the tips you need in one handy place. I will for sure take this with me on my next camping trip.

Great hacks, quick read A+!!
