We're Going To Do It!: An Illustration Of The Trials And Tribulations Families Of Autistic, ADHD And Other Special Needs Children May Experience During The Early Years.

Synopsis

We're Going To Do It sets the stage for this uniquely expressed series of child development stories. Mom and Dad rush to the hospital and give birth to a bi-racial boy born with hemophilia, a severe bleeding disorder. Christopher begins to exhibit many unusual behaviors and is diagnosed with autism. All hope seems lost for Christopher, but Dad decides to not give up and vows to help Christopher manage his challenges. This Encouragement Story educates, desensitizes its readers by illustrating a wide range of human interest issues parents of autistic, ADD/ADHD and other special needs children are forced to endure during early preschool years. This human interest story encourages desirable child development in all areas including Speech & Language, Cognitive, Theory Of The Mind, Creative and emotional.
