Teach, Breathe, Learn: Mindfulness In And Out Of The Classroom

Synopsis

In Teach, Breathe, Learn, Meena Srinivasan highlights how mindfulness can be an effective tool in the classroom. What makes this book truly unique is her perspective as a classroom teacher, wrestling daily with the conditions about which she writes. "Teach, Breathe, Learn provides accessible, practical application of mindfulness to overcome challenges faced during the school day." Testimonials from students and colleagues are woven throughout the book. Teach, Breathe, Learn is designed for educators at all levels, parents interested in sharing mindfulness with their children, and anyone curious about how to cultivate their own mindfulness practice and eventually teach mindfulness to others. Part 1 helps teachers develop compassion and shift from "reacting" to "responding" to demands. Part 2 offers techniques for cultivating loving-kindness, gratitude and seeing students, colleagues, and parents as oneself. The last section of the book introduces a curriculum teachers can use to incorporate mindfulness into their classroom, replete with lesson plans, handouts, and homework assignments.

Meena Srinivasan is an Indian-American international educator and thought leader in the field of mindfulness in education. She was one of the youngest educators to be awarded the prestigious National Board Certification. A contributor to United Nations publications on inclusive education, Srinivasan earned an Master's degree in Education from UC Berkeley and a Bachelor's degree in History and Political Science from Amherst College. Her international outlook on education was enhanced by spending her junior year studying abroad at the London School of Economics. She has taught Middle and High School students in Brazil, India, and California and currently works for the Oakland Unified School District's Social Emotional Learning & Leadership Development Team. Meena is a student of Thich Nhat Hanh and was involved in the creation of his bestselling book Planting Seeds: Practicing Mindfulness with Children. She serves on the Board of Directors of the Mindfulness in Education Network, was Core Faculty of the Mindful Education Institute, and served on the Advisory Board of the San Francisco Asian Art Museum's exhibit, Yoga: The Art of Transformation. Meena is also a recipient of the 2014 Hemera Foundation Contemplative Education Fellowship. Meena lives in the San Francisco Bay Area with her husband, Eurasian-American Filmmaker, Chihiro Wimbush. Bringing together their passion for education, media, mindfulness and social justice, Meena and Chihiro started A Lens Inside, a fiscally sponsored project of United Charitable Programs - a registered 501(c)(3) public charity. A Lens Inside develops multimedia and film productions to create curriculum programs that address the exploration of social issues.

We are just starting a mindfulness based program in my district and Meena's book, "Teach, Breathe, and Learn" is one of the best resources for teachers and others who want to teach mindfulness to students and staff!! It is very well organized, easy to read and she gives wonderful, practical and quick and easy strategies/lesson plans to be used immediately. This book is a must have book for anyone wanting to start a mindfulness program in their school. Thank you Meena for such an excellent resource for those of us who would like to see a more "awake" world and that starts with our children!! A deep bow of gratitude to you for sharing such a valuable resource with all of us who would like to share the mindfulness path with those we work with, both staff and students. Terrific book that I will read over and over again-have your sticky notes handy as you will be marking many passages in this book for future reference:-). Enjoy-Mariann

I love this book and was moved by it. Meena Srinivasan's words ring true with a naturalness and authenticity that is often absent in books directed at teachers. She embodies a mindfulness and presence in her life and work that will inspire all teachers who strive to bring themselves fully to their teaching and relationships. - Pamela Seigle, Executive Director Courage & Renewal Northeast

I would recommend this book to any educator interested in social emotional learning. It's easy to read and has wonderful information about the subject and lesson examples of how to implement mindfulness into the classroom.

A wonderful resource for teachers that are interested in incorporating mindfulness in their classrooms. I shared this book with my curriculum director and we bought 30 of them and started a book club at our school. Very practical story telling with a curriculum unit at the end. I highly recommend this book!

Very practical and instructive reading ! Great thank to you Meena Srinivasan for sharing your experiences in a very accessible way , and language ! I strongly recommend it to anyone interested to discover how to include mindfulness/presence approach in the class or with own kids. Belle route
À fÂ ce magnifique livre !

This book has proven to be very beneficial to me in my mindfulness practice!!!

Great way to connect with learning and social emotional wellness/growth in the classroom.

Excelent resource for educators!!
