Feasting On The Word, Year A,: Season After Pentecost 2 (Propers 17-reign Of Christ)

Synopsis

With this twelve-volume series, Westminster John Knox Press offers one of the most extensive and well-respected resources for preaching on the market today. The twelve volumes cover all of the Sundays in the three-year lectionary cycle, along with moveable occasions. The page layout is truly unique. For each lectionary text, preachers will find brief essays--one each on the exegetical, theological, pastoral, and homiletical challenges of the text. Each volume also contains an index of biblical passages so that nonlectionary preachers may make use of it.

Customer Reviews

“A monumental contribution. These substantial and beautifully produced volumes address the reader with all the gravitas and grace that preaching deserves (and requires). Feasting on the Word will richly repay your investment.” The Christian Century.
“The most ecumenical and comprehensive of the lectionary commentaries.”
• Thomas G. Long, Candler School of Theology, Emory University.
“The list of authors is broad and diverse—from evangelical to Roman Catholic, liberals and conservatives, academics and nonacademics. A unique resource that can be recommended highly.”
• Sharing the Practice.
• The Living Church.

David L. Bartlett is Professor of New Testament, Columbia Theological Seminary, coeditor of the Westminster Bible Companion series, and author of What's Good about This News? Barbara Brown Taylor, a popular preacher and prolific author, is Butman Professor of Religion, Piedmont College, and Adjunct Professor of Christian Spirituality, Columbia Theological Seminary. She is the author of Seeds of Heaven.

Love these commentaries and kindle version shows well. Only problem is that the Year A,B,C and Volume number are near impossible to read on the cover view which makes finding which one you need quite the annoying task.

Excellent resource!

good so far

The commentary gives very scholarly information about the particular lectionary scriptures. It's interesting to see different perspectives on particular passages. Sometimes it gives me angles to pursue that I hadn't considered in thinking about the truth that the Bible is bringing about. Of course, I don't always agree with the commentator, but it gives me a way of addressing what I truly believe and digging deeper to find greater applications and truth in familiar and unfamiliar texts. I recommend it highly.

this is the best sermon help book we can imagine, love that it is a beautiful book on nice paper too... the contributors were well chosen. I really rely on this and Love, love love that it is hard bound and I do not have to be connected to access it.

Feasting on the word is a great resource and I use it on a weekly basis. The problem is that the Old Testament scripture follows only one track and in the Episcopal Church we have a choice of two tracks during this time period.

For preachers, this is a great resource. In fact, the whole series has been wonderful. The idea of presenting a theological, pastoral, exegetical, and Homiletical perspective on each Lectionary passage is brilliant. And the chosen authors have done their jobs marvelously. Bravo.

Invaluable for sermon preparation, as well as digging deeper into the lectionary readings. Various authors give multiple commentaries on each reading. I love it so much, I bought the complete set both as books and on Kindle!
