First Aid Mini-Lapbook & Study Guide

Synopsis

Whenever there is an injury or a medical emergency, the actions of the first responders, or the first people who are available to help, are very important. The definition of first aid, according to the Merriam Webster dictionary, is "emergency care or treatment given to an ill or injured person before regular medical aid can be obtained." Use our mini-lapbook and study guide to get an overview of basic first aid or to launch a more in-depth study!
